1917-THE YEAR OF ALL YEARS

This has been so far the most unsettled year for all concerned possibly on record. The times demand energy and efficiency.

We have heard the call for every man, woman and child to do their share. It has been answered to a great extent. People have learned how to save, not by eating cheap, inferior food, but by demanding the best and most wholesome eatables. They have also learned the value of accepting none but the highest quality merchandise. Truly, this is real economy. Remember inferior goods are not only cheap but look cheap.
